

Good afternoon! I wanted to wait for Governor Lee today to make his announcement of his recommendation for schools before I emailed. As you may know, he has recommended that schools close through the end of the school year. I will inform you of Dr. Gilbert's direction for MCS when that has been shared.

As of now, we will continue to plan our weekly optional activities for our students, as well as continue to participate in our Zoom chats, and explore other ways to reach our students during the closure. I am very grateful and appreciative of the positive support, communication, and comments that our families have provided during this time. This is a challenge for all of us and will take all of us working together to find success. I do believe we are on the best possible path with the best possible crew to get there. As always, if you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to me.

Happy World Art Day! I hope that your day has been full of color, imagination, and wonder!!
